Introduction 1

PART A AIMS AND OBJECTIVES

Reasons for including literature in the language classroom; an outline of our approach; and some answers to general queries that teachers might have.

1 Teaching literature: why, what and how 3
2 In the classroom 11

PART B PRACTICAL ACTIVITIES IN OUTLINE

A resource bank of activities from which a teacher can choose and which can be applied at different stages when using literary works. In most cases, an illustration is given with the outline, from a range of novels, short stories, plays or poems. (Readers can find descriptions of these works in Appendix 2.) Alternatively, readers are given a reference to the example in Part C.

3 First encounters 16
4 Maintaining momentum 36
5 Exploiting highlights 57
6 Endings 79

PART C WORKING WITH A COMPLETE TEXT

Particular works from four genres are examined in greater detail to show how the activities outlined in Part B can be adapted. The novel chapter, on Lord of the Flies, contains the most thorough array of activities, and readers might prefer to start with this section.

7	A novel: Lord of the Flies by William Golding	93
8	Plays	163
9	Short stories	196
10	Poems	226

Appendix 1	With examinations in mind	247
A few hints and a simulation to help teachers prepare their students for examinations.

Appendix 2	A resource bank of titles	256
Fuller details of works mentioned in the main body of the book and suggestions for further reading.
