

Plan

Look at these questions about family. Then write five more questions.

Are you an only child?

How many people are in your family?

Do your parents work?

Does your family always eat dinner together?

Are you living at home now?

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____

Prepare

A Group work Conduct a survey about families. Compare your questions. Then each student chooses one question.

B Group work Ask your question to at least ten people. Report back to the group. Then draw a chart to present your group's findings.

Present

Class activity Share your chart with the class. Tell your classmates the most surprising things that you learned about families.