

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-85312-5 - Second Language Needs Analysis

Edited by Michael H. Long

Index

More informationIndex

- ACTFL (American Council of Teachers of Foreign Languages) 106, 122 fn. 6
- ACTFL/ETS proficiency scale 106
- analytic syllabuses 4, 21–2
- business language needs 159–81
- community of practice 348–50
- concordancing 326–9
- consent and consent forms 260–1, 271, 297 fn. 17, 304, 351–2
- conversation analysis 313
- cost-benefit analysis 80, 160
- Council of Europe 21
- Delphi method 167–8
- Dictionary of Occupational Titles 22, 26, 49–50, 63, 68
- discourse community 185
- DLI (Defense Language Institute) 6–7, 85, 105, 122 fn. 1
- domain experts 23, 27–8, 35, 62–3, 110, 115, 120–1, 123 fn. 12, 131, 188, 191, 197
- ETS (Education Testing Service) 106
- flight attendants 48–65
- focus on forms 3, 12 fn. 2, 24
- frequency of linguistic forms 326–9
- FSI (Foreign Service Institute) 106
- goal analysis 129, 229, 231–2
- history of NA 2, 5
- ILR language proficiency scale 106, 122 fn. 6, 123 fn. 12
- interlanguage development 3
- intellectually disabled workers 347–8
- job advertisements 167
- job analysis 129
- language for specific purposes 19
- market forces in NA 82–100
- Maryland, State of 90–100
- methodology of NA 5, 19–76, 117–22
- methods for NA 30–2
- ethnographic methods 43–4, 133, 150
- interviews 33, 35–7, 51–2, 96, 166, 186–9, 191, 228–30; (unstructured) 51, 59–60, 63, 115, 135, 138, 143, 186, 197
- introspection 51–2, 58–9, 135, 197
- journals and logs 44–5
- language audit 33, 40–2
- language tests 167, 266
- multiple 32–4, 64, 149, 193–7
- non-participant observation 33, 42, 195–6
- participant observation 33, 42–3, 135–6, 139, 166
- proficiency tests 34, 45–8
- questionnaires 33, 38–40, 63–4, 91–2, 135, 147–9, 153–4, 161–2, 166, 168–70, 171–4, 180–1, 188–9, 203–8, 216–22, 230–2, 255–9 (anonymous) 167–8; (response rate) 40, 65 fn. 2, 91–2, 189–90, 203, 230–2; (telephone) 216–7
- reliability 117–9, 120–22
- retrospection 120–1
- sequencing of methods 33–4, 64, 188, 193–4, 226
- shadowing 132
- triangulated methods 25, 29–30, 128
- validity 119–22

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-85312-5 - Second Language Needs Analysis

Edited by Michael H. Long

Index

More information374 Index

- military foreign language needs 105–24
- multiple methods 32–4, 64, 149, 193–7
- multiple sources 130–1, 133, 134, 149, 191–3
- national security 83–89
- objective need 162
- observer's paradox 351
- performance standards 25, 197
- proficiency scales and descriptions 106–9, 112–3, 116, 119–20, 121–2, 122 fn. 4, fn. 5
- prototypical interaction 337–8
- samples 34–5, 62, 91, 188, 228, 350–1
 - sampling criteria 186
 - stratified random sample 228
- service encounters 308–310
- small (or social) talk 132, 138, 310, 344–71
 - distribution of 357–60
 - functions of 353, 360–2
 - teaching and teachability of 362–7
 - topics of 353–7
- social justice 90–100
- social-marginal value 80–1, 100
- societal needs 79–104
- Soldier's Manual of Common Tasks 25–6, 114, 119
- sources for NA 24–30
 - applied linguists 27
 - domain experts 23, 27–8, 35, 62–3, 110, 115, 120–1, 123 fn. 12, 131, 188, 191, 197
 - insiders and outsiders 22, 27–8, 43, 48–9, 50–7, 62, 64, 127–8, 144–7, 149
 - intuitions 35, 48–9
 - learners 20, 26–7, 64, 129–30, 226
 - multiple 130–1, 133, 134, 149, 191–73
 - published and unpublished literature 25–6, 33
 - sampling 34–5, 62
 - target discourse samples 34, 58, 61
 - triangulated sources 28–30, 139–49, 192, 197
 - written sources 49–50, 63, 83–9, 119
- source x method interactions 61–2, 64
- subject matter experts (SMEs) see 'domain experts'
- subjective need 162–3
- syllabus types 3, 21
 - synthetic syllabuses 3, 21
- target discourse collection and analysis 183, 190, 196, 233–44, 269–73, 293–5, 303, 308–10, 312–26, 351–362
- target situation analysis 41, 311–2
- task 4, 8, 10, 40, 49, 51–5, 65 fn. 6
 - classification 116
 - complexity 197–8, 249–52
 - conditions 115
 - criticality 111, 116
 - difficulty 195
 - frequency 111, 113, 116, 195
 - sequencing 197–8
 - standards 115
- task (as the unit of analysis) 22–4, 28, 111, 115–6, 130–1
 - pedagogic tasks 244–9, 288–93
 - target tasks 183–5, 230, 232–3, 286–8
 - target sub-tasks 183–4, 195–6
- Task-Based Language Teaching (TBLT) 9, 22, 23
- task-based materials 244–9
 - authenticity 253 fn. 3
- task-based testing 46–8
- technical and sub-technical vocabulary 52, 57, 65 fn. 7
- telephone survey 91
- text (as the unit of analysis) 23, 63
- textbook language artificiality 305–8, 327, 330–6
- tourist industry workers 41
- transcription conventions 303, 343, 372
- triangulation 8–9, 28–30, 60, 128, 131, 139–49, 350
- unconscious need 162
- use and usage 23