

Contents

Contributors      vii
Series editor’s preface      viii
Preface      ix
Acknowledgments      x

1 Teachers as course developers      1
    Kathleen Graves

2 A framework of course development processes      12
    Kathleen Graves

3 Designing workplace ESOL courses for Chinese health-care workers at a Boston nursing home      39
    Johan Uvin
    Course development focus: Needs assessment

4 Designing a seventh-grade social studies course for ESL students at an international school      63
    Pat Fisher
    Course development focus: Determining goals and objectives

5 Designing an EAP course for postgraduate students in Ecuador      86
    Maria del Carmen Blyth
    Course development focus: Conceptualizing content

6 Designing a writing component for teen courses at a Brazilian language institute      119
    Maria Estela Pinheiro Franco
    Course development focuses: Selecting and developing materials and activities and organization of content and activities

7 Planning an advanced listening comprehension elective for Japanese college students      151
    Barbara Fujiwara
    Course development focuses: Selecting and developing materials and
    activities and organization of content and activities

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-49768-8 - Teachers as Course Developers
Edited by Kathleen Graves
Table of Contents
More information

---

vi    Contents

8    A curriculum framework for corporate language programs    176
     Laura Hull
     Course development focus: Evaluation

Further reading    203
Index    210