

Index

- academic authors of teacher research 21
- academic research 62
 - culture of 151, 152, 153
- academics, response to Discourse of teacher research 79–80
- action research 12–13
 - definitions 7, 8
 - history of 10, 11
 - issues for teacher research approach 19–22
 - managers' conceptions of 60–1
 - teacher research as 11–12
- Australia, teacher research initiatives 185–8, 188–9
- barriers to teacher research 17–18
 - to engagement in research 115–23
 - to engagement with research 78–9, 95–7
- beliefs about research, influence on teacher's actions 49
- benefits of research engagement, key findings 216–17
- benefits of teacher research 15–17
- British Council 198–9, 201, 204
- case studies, teacher engagement with research 79–81
- Center for Applied Linguistics (USA) 85
- Centre for the Use of Research and Evidence in Education (CUREE) 84
- classroom problems, as focus of teacher research 12
- classroom research
 - definitions 8
 - emergence of 11
- collaborative inquiry 7, 8, 12
- conceptions of research 11–14, 49–72, 146–7
- academic research 62
 - and view of research engagement 147–9
- characteristics of good research 62–72
 - distinction from reflection 57
 - distinction from routine teaching 57
- education studies 49–50
- findings of prior research surveys 49–52
- future studies 71–2
- implications for engagement 69–72
- influence on engagement 49
- key findings 213–14
- language teaching studies 50–2
- managers' views on what counts as research 57–62
- role of reflection 61
- teachers' assessment of scenarios 52–7
- teachers' views on what counts as research 52–7
- critical inquiry 7
- critical praxis 12
- critiques of teacher research 18–22
- culture of language teaching research see research culture
- data collection strategies 9–10
- definitions of teacher research 7–10
- Department for Education (UK) website 84
- Discourse of researchers, responses to 79–80
- dissemination of research 9
- doing research see teacher engagement in research

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-15263-1 – Teacher Research in Language Teaching

Simon Borg Carol A. Chapelle Susan Hunston

Index

More informationIndex 249

- economic aspects of teacher research
 - 18, 120
- educational research cultures 151–3
- ELT directors' conceptions of research
 - (Study 2) 36–40, 45–6
 - analysis of participants 45–6
 - emails 38–9
 - interviews 37–8
 - questionnaires 36–7
 - research challenges 39–40
 - research questions 36
- ELT professionals' view of research
 - (Study 4) 41–3, 45–6
 - analysis of participants 45–6
 - data analysis 42
 - questionnaires 41–2
 - research challenges 42–3
- emancipatory research 11–12
- English Language Intensive Courses
 - for Overseas Students (ELICOS) scheme, Australia 188–9
- European Centre for Modern Languages 85
- evaluative research 109, 110–12
- Evidence for Policy and Practice
 - Information and Co-ordinating Centre (EPPI-Centre) 84–5
- evidence-based practice (EBP) 49
 - assumptions 75–6
 - critiques 76
 - in education 2, 13–14
- evidence-informed practice 77
- exploratory practice (EP) 12–13
- funded initiatives for teacher research 14
- good quality research, characteristics
 - 62–72
- higher education, research culture
 - 151, 152–3
- Hong Kong, teacher research project 188
- identity issues, and engagement in research 120–3
- informal research 113, 117–19
- initiatives
 - to facilitate engagement with research 84–5
 - with funding for teacher research 14
- institutional environments see research culture
- investigating language teacher
 - research engagement 225–30
 - see also* research programme
- journals
 - peer review of research papers 66–8
 - reporting of language teacher research 14–15
- language centres attached to universities 152
- Languages Inservice Program for Teachers (LIPT) (Australia) 187–8
- Lewin, Kurt 10
- literature review, feature of good quality research 65–6
- managers' perspectives
 - ELT directors' conceptions of research (Study 2) 36–40, 45–6
 - features of good quality research 68–9
 - promoting teacher research engagement 220
 - research cultures in language teaching 161–80
 - research engagement and teaching quality 134–46
 - what counts as research 57–62
- means-oriented action research 12
- methodological issues in teacher research 18–22
- National Centre for English Language Teaching and Research (NCELTR), Sydney 185–7
- National Centre for Languages 85

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-15263-1 – Teacher Research in Language Teaching

Simon Borg Carol A. Chapelle Susan Hunston

Index

More information250 Index

- National Research and Development Centre (NRDC) (UK) 85
- New Zealand, teacher research project 189–90
- objectivity, feature of good quality research 64–5
- Oman ELT research project 192–8
 - background 192–3
 - facilitative conditions 196–7
 - objectives 192
 - outcomes 197–8
 - project design 193–4
 - project evaluation 194–6
 - rationale 192
- organizational culture, definition 152
 - see also* research culture
- origins of teacher research 10–11
- paradox of teacher research 1–5
- peer review of research papers 66–8
- personal study, distinction from research 9
- political issues in teacher research 18
- practical value of research 66
- practitioner research 7, 8
- private inquiry, distinction from research 9
- professional development, potential
 - benefits of teacher research 6–7
- promoting teacher research
 - engagement 219–25
 - basic principles 219–20
 - engaging with research 223–5
 - facilitative conditions 220–3
 - manager suggestions 220
 - strategies to involve teachers 223–5
 - teacher suggestions 220
 - workshops and study groups 223–5
- public nature of research 9
- publication of research, peer review of papers 66–8
- publications, reporting of language teacher research 14–15
- questionnaires
 - ELT directors' conceptions of research (Study 2) 36–7
 - ELT professionals' view of research (Study 4) 41–2
 - research cultures in English language schools (Study 3) 41
 - research engagement in English language teaching (Study 1) 31, 32–4
 - working with 43–5
- reading research see teacher engagement with research
- reflection
 - and informal research 117–19
 - and teacher research 7, 8
 - distinction from research 57
 - role in teacher research 10, 61
- research culture, definition 152
- research cultures in educational settings 151–3
- research cultures in English language schools (Study 3) 40–1, 45–6
 - analysis of participants 45–6
 - interviews 41
 - questionnaires 41
 - research questions 40
 - research challenges 41
- research cultures in language teaching 151–82
 - barriers to positive research cultures 170–4
 - desirability of creating 174–80
 - enhancing research cultures 160–1
 - factors contributing to positive research cultures 166–9
 - feasibility of creating 174–80
 - key findings 218–19
 - language teachers' perspectives 154–61
 - managers' perspectives 161–80
 - perceived benefits 174–80
 - promoting a research culture in schools 152–3
 - research-engaged schools 12, 152–3

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-15263-1 – Teacher Research in Language Teaching

Simon Borg Carol A. Chapelle Susan Hunston

Index

More information

Index 251

- summary of views on 180–2
- research-engaged schools 12, 152–3
- research engagement in English language teaching (Study 1) 31–6, 45–6
 - analysis of participants 45–6
 - data collection and analysis 31
 - interviews 34–5
 - questionnaires 31, 32–4
 - research questions 31
 - research challenges 35–6
 - study design 31
 - written follow-up 34
- Research for Teachers* web archive 84
- research programme 30–47
 - analysis of participants 45–7
 - assessment 225–7
 - further research 227–30
 - rationale 30–1
 - research questions 46–7
 - Study 1 (Research engagement in English language teaching) 31–6, 45–6
 - Study 2 (ELT directors' conceptions of research) 36–40, 45–6
 - Study 3 (Research cultures in English language schools) 40–1, 45–6
 - Study 4 (ELT professionals' view of research) 41–3, 45–6
 - teacher research projects 43
 - working with questionnaires 43–5
- schools
 - improvement through teacher research 12
 - promoting a research culture 152–3
 - research cultures 151–3
 - research partnerships with universities 152–3
- Schools Research Bulletins* 84
- Schools Research News* 84
- Schools–University Partnership for Educational Research (SUPER) project 153
- self study 7
- Sense of Progress research project 198–205
 - background 198–9
 - facilitative conditions 204–5
 - participants 199
 - project design 200–1
 - project evaluation 201–4
- SLA research, relevance for language teachers 77
- social inquiry, teacher research as 11–12
- socio-political approach to teacher research 11–12
- sources of research for teachers 84–5
 - information sources 78
 - sources used by teachers 88–91
- Study 1 (Research engagement in English language teaching) 31–6, 45–6
- Study 2 (ELT directors' conceptions of research) 36–40, 45–6
- Study 3 (Research cultures in English language schools) 40–1, 45–6
- Study 4 (ELT professionals' view of research) 41–3, 45–6
- study groups and workshops for teachers 223–5
- systematic inquiry 7–9
- teacher cognition 1–2
- teacher education, use of teacher research 17
- teacher engagement in research 104–24
 - economic aspects 120
 - empirical evidence for 104–5
 - evaluative research 109, 110–12
 - identity issues 120–3
 - impact of doing research 114–15
 - informal research 113, 117–19
 - key findings 216
 - kinds of research that teachers do 109–13
 - prevalence of doing research 106–7
 - reasons for doing research 107–8

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-15263-1 – Teacher Research in Language Teaching

Simon Borg Carol A. Chapelle Susan Hunston

Index

More information252 Index

- reasons for not doing research 115–23
- reflective practice 117–19
- summary of issues for teachers 123–4
- teacher engagement with research 75–100
 - case studies 79–81
 - enhancing engagement 81–5
 - factors mediating impact of research 93–5
 - frequency of reading research 86–8
 - impact of reading research 92–5
 - influence of research knowledge on teaching 76–7
 - initiatives to facilitate engagement 84–5
 - insights into language teachers' engagement 86–97
 - key findings 211–19
 - need for further studies 98–100
 - need for initiatives to encourage 98–100
 - positive teacher response to research reports 82–4
 - practices in engaging with research 78–9
 - reading and use of research 75–81
 - reasons for not reading research 78–9, 95–7
 - relevance of SLA research for teachers 77
 - sources of reading 88–91
 - sources of research information 78
 - teachers as consumers of research 75–6
- teacher research
 - academic authors 21
 - as action research 11, 12–13
 - as collaborative inquiry 12
 - as critical praxis 12
 - as exploratory practice (EP) 12–13
 - as means to improve schools 12
 - as means to solve practical classroom problems 12
 - as social inquiry 11–12
 - barriers to 17–18
 - benefits of 15–17
 - conceptualizations of 11–14
 - critiques of 18–22
 - data collection strategies 9–10
 - definitions 7–10
 - dissemination of 9
 - drivers in language teaching 11
 - early attempts to promote 11
 - evidence-based practice (EBP) 13–14
 - extent of language teacher engagement 6–7
 - funded initiatives 14
 - history of 10–11
 - methodological issues 18–22
 - origins 10–11
 - paradox of potential value vs. lack of interest in 1–5
 - potential benefits for professional development 6–7
 - practical challenges 69
 - review of language teacher publications 14–15
 - support from evidence-based practice policy 2
- teacher research engagement
 - need for studies 2
 - place in language teaching 230–1
- teacher research engagement key findings
 - benefits of research engagement 216–17
 - conceptions of research 213–14
 - doing research 216
 - reading research 214–15
 - research cultures 218–19
- teacher research engagement study 210–19
 - key findings 211–19
 - rationale for 210–11
 - sources of data 210–11
- Teacher Research Grant Pilot Scheme 19
- teacher research projects
 - AMEP action research project (NECLTR, Sydney) 185–7
 - Australia 185–8, 188–9

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-15263-1 – Teacher Research in Language Teaching

Simon Borg Carol A. Chapelle Susan Hunston

Index

More informationIndex 253

- challenges faced by 187, 188, 190–1
- ELICOS scheme (Australia) 188–9
- facilitating and supporting 184–207
- Hong Kong 188
- in the context of formal study 184–5
- initiatives to promote teacher research 184–92
- models for promoting teacher research 191
- New Zealand 189–90
- researching ELT in Oman 192–8
- Sense of Progress research project 198–205
- teaching research methods 205–7
- Turkey 190–1
- see also* promoting teacher research engagement
- teachers' perspectives
 - ELT professionals' view of research (Study 4) 41–3, 45–6
 - features of good quality research 63–8
 - promoting research engagement 220
 - research cultures in language teaching 154–61
 - research engagement and teaching quality 127–33
 - what counts as research 52–7
- Teaching and Learning International Survey (TALIS) 78
- teaching quality and research engagement 126–49
- evidence of effects 126–7
- interpretation of reports 126–7
- key themes from the analysis 146–9
- managers' perspectives 134–46
- negative manager perspectives 144–6
- negative teacher perspectives 132–3
- positive manager perspectives 135–9
- positive teacher perspectives 128–30
- teacher perspectives 127–33
- uncertain manager perspectives 139–44
- uncertain teacher perspectives 130–2
- teaching research methods 205–7
- The International Research Foundation for English Language Education (TIRF) 85
- TLRP Practitioner Applications* website 84
- Turkey, teacher research project 190–1
- universities
 - language centres attached to 152
 - research culture 151, 152, 153
 - research partnerships with schools 152–3
- validity of teacher research 18–22
- What Works Clearinghouse (USA) 85
- workshops and study groups for teachers 223–5