Beijing

Welcome to my city. My name's Li Jing and I'm 12 years old. Beijing is the capital of China. It has a population of about 15 million people. And me! Beijing is 3,000 years old. But it's a modern city, too. There are lots of tall buildings and fantastic shops and museums.

- Tiananmen Square
I love this square. Tourists always come here and take photos. It's the biggest square in the world.
- The Forbidden City
We've got a very old palace in Beijing. There are 980 buildings in it. And there are hundreds of beautiful things in the museum. Eight million tourists go there every year!
- Beijing Zoo
Do you like pandas? They're sweet! Come to our zoo and see them.
- Beijing National Stadium
This stadium is very modern. Its name is the 'Bird's Nest'. We've got it because of the Olympics. 80,000 people can sit inside. I love it! It's a 'green' building – it uses rainwater in the bathrooms.
- Bicycles
We all have bicycles in Beijing. It's the bicycle capital of the world! I cycle to school. There are also bicycle taxi tours! You can visit old parts of the city and visit a Chinese school!
- Apartments
My family live in a big apartment building. Our apartment is on the 10th floor. I can see a park and lots of buildings. The view is fantastic. So that's my city. Write to me about your city!

Your project: holiday blog

- Imagine you are on holiday. Decide:
 - where you are where you are staying
 - what you are doing the weather how you feel
- Now write an imaginary blog about your holiday every day for a week.
- Use the present continuous. For example:
 - It's Saturday. I'm walking in the mountains. I'm with my father.
 - It's snowing and it's cold. I'm tired. I'm not happy!
- Then present your blog to the class.
