

Contents

Series editor’s preface ix
Preface xi

Introduction 1

 Methodological basis of the book 1
 A description of the book 2

1 What is reading? 5

 The reader 5
 The text 9
 The interaction between reader and text 14
 Models of reading 17
 Expanding your knowledge 19
 Chapter highlights 19

2 Factors that influence reading in an L2/FL 21

 Cognitive development and style orientation 24
 Reading performance and competence in the L1 25
 Metacognitive knowledge 26
 L2/FL language proficiency 27
 Degree of difference between the L1 and the L2/FL 28
 Cultural orientation 28
 Expanding your knowledge 33
 Chapter highlights 34

3 Designing the reading course 35

 Course goals 35
 Approaches to teaching reading 42
 Selecting appropriate materials 47
 Evaluation and final course grade 50

vi Contents

Expanding your knowledge	52
Chapter highlights	52
Appendix A Table of contents to Reading on Your Own	54
Appendix B Table of contents to Reader's Choice	57
Appendix C from "An Occurrence at Owl Creek Bridge" (authentic version)	60
Appendix D from "An Occurrence at Owl Creek Bridge" (modified version)	62
Appendix E Types of L2/FL reading books	63
 4 Preparing to read	 65
Establishing a purpose for reading	66
Activating and building background knowledge	67
Previewing the text to build expectations	73
Prereading activities for lower levels of language proficiency	77
As you plan	82
Expanding your knowledge	86
Chapter highlights	87
Appendix A "The Neighbor's Kitchen"	88
Appendix B Foreign language textbook exercises	92
 5 Reading the text	 95
The reading process	96
Building comprehension of the text	97
Monitoring text comprehension	104
Adjusting reading strategies	108
Reading activities for lower levels of language proficiency	110
As you plan	111
Expanding your knowledge	112
Chapter highlights	113
Appendix A Reading text for monitoring strategies and processes	114
 6 Reviewing reading	 116
Reviewing information from the text	116
Discussing information not in the text	126
Evaluating information in the text	130
Reviewing activities for lower levels of language proficiency	132

As you plan	133
Expanding your knowledge	135
Chapter highlights	136
7 Vocabulary issues in teaching reading	138
Vocabulary before reading	139
Vocabulary during reading	141
Vocabulary after reading	148
Expanding your knowledge	153
Chapter highlights	154
8 Using literature	156
Reasons for using literature	156
Features of literary texts	158
Adjusting methods to literary texts	160
Criteria for selecting literary texts	162
As you plan	163
Expanding your knowledge	165
Chapter highlights	165
9 Assessing L2/FL reading	167
Alternative methods of assessing reading	168
Traditional methods of testing reading	172
Writing tests for the classroom	177
Planning course-level assessment	178
Expanding your knowledge	179
Chapter highlights	180
Appendix A Keeping a reading journal	181
10 Planning the reading lesson	184
Components of a lesson plan	185
Factors that influence planning	188
As you use the lesson plan	191
From plan to syllabus to curriculum	192
Expanding your knowledge	194
Chapter highlights	194
Appendix A A sample L2/FL reading curriculum	196
11 The learning spiral and the reading teacher	198

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-49785-5 - From Reader to Reading Teacher: Issues and Strategies for Second Language Classrooms
Jo Ann Aebersold and Mary Lee Field
Table of Contents
More information

viii Contents

Reading textbook samples	203
Beginning and low levels
1 “Who’s Calling”	204
2 “Dish Soap for Dinner”	212
Intermediate level
3 “Modern Fathers Have Pleasures and Problems”	216
Advanced level
4 “Our Future Stock”	224
Superior level
5 “Theoretical Perspectives on Societies”	235
Text without exercises
6 “More Men Infiltrating Professions Historically Dominated by Women”	248
References	251
Index	261