

WOULD YOU LIKE TO LIVE ABROAD?

AudioScript

B

Listen to the conversations. Where would each person like to live?

Angela

Henry: Do you think you'd like to live in a foreign country, Angela?

Angela: Sure, for a while, anyway. Especially somewhere in South America – Brazil or Venezuela. I've met lots of people from there, and they've been great.

Henry: What do you think you'd miss if you lived abroad?

Angela: I guess one thing I'd miss for sure would be my friends. It might take a while to make new ones.

Henry: How about learning a new language? Would that worry you?

Angela: No way! I'd love to have the chance to learn a new language. And it's so much easier when you live in the country where people speak it.

Henry: Yes, it's much easier.

Angela: The thing I'd probably worry about is the cost of living. It can be pretty expensive living in a foreign country.

Paul

Henry: What about you, Paul? Are you interested in living or working overseas?

Paul: Sure, I'd love to! Maybe in China or India. They look fascinating in the movies I've seen about them. Such ancient cultures!

Henry: Yes, indeed. Is there anything you'd miss if you lived there?

Paul: Oh, sure. Lots of things. Probably the biggest thing I'd miss would be being able to speak English whenever I wanted to. I'd have to learn the new language as soon as possible.

Henry: So, why would you be interested in living abroad, then?

Paul: For the cultural experience. I plan to major in anthropology, so I'd like to get to know another culture from the inside.

Henry: I see.

Paul: One thing I might find difficult, though, is getting used to different food. I'm not sure how I'd react to a complete change of diet.

Henry: Oh, I'm sure you'd get used to it soon.

Paul: I hope so.
