

I LIKE PEOPLE WHO . . .

Join the sentences with relative pronouns.

1. I like people. I have something in common with them.

I like people who I have something in common with.

2. I like people. They aren't temperamental or egotistical.

3. I'd prefer friends. I can talk to them easily.

4. I'd prefer a boss. She is supportive and easygoing.

5. I like a partner. He has a sense of humor.

6. I like people. They are outgoing, fun, and modest!

MY IDEAL . . .

A Complete the chart with qualities you like and don't like in a partner.

Qualities you like	Qualities you don't like
supportive	unreliable

B GROUP WORK Compare your ideas.

A: What's your ideal partner like?

B: Well, I like a partner who's supportive. I can't stand it when people aren't helpful and encouraging. How about you?

C: I like a partner who's easygoing . . .

useful expressions

I can't stand it when . . .

I like it when . . .

It bothers me when . . .

It makes me happy when . . .

It really upsets me when . . .