Thanks and acknowledgements

Author acknowledgements

My thanks to Pam Gadsby, Phil Scofield and Scott Thornbury for ideas and inspiration. Thanks to Frances Amrani and Alison Silver for attentive editing. Thanks also to Bob Harris for great music to write along to. Thanks to all the students over the years who have been so much fun. (And a big thank you to those students who have helped carry armfuls of dictionaries!) And special thanks to Tony Leaney for proofreading, reality checks and lunch.

Development of this publication has made use of the Cambridge International Corpus (CIC). The CIC is a computerized database of contemporary spoken and written English which currently stands at over one billion words. It includes British English, American English and other varieties of English. It also includes the Cambridge Learner Corpus, developed in collaboration with the University of Cambridge ESOL Examinations. Cambridge University Press has built up the CIC to provide evidence about language use that helps to produce better language teaching materials.

The author and publishers are grateful to the following for permission to reproduce copyright material. It has not been possible to identify the sources of all the material used and in such cases the publishers would welcome information from copyright owners.
