

Chapter 6 links

The National Centre for Missing and Exploited Children maintain 'NetSmartz' (www.netsmartz.org), which provides information and resources for children, teenagers, educators and parents and guardians about staying safe online. They cover a wide variety of issues, including predators and inappropriate content, as well as social networking, sexting and file sharing.

In the UK, the Serious Organised Crime Agency (SOCA) is affiliated with the Child Exploitation and Online Protection Centre (CEOP) (www.ceop.police.uk). This website also offers advice and resources for parents and children of different ages.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation provides help and advice for parents at:

www.fbi.gov/stats-services/publications/parent-guide.

Journal links

Journal of Sexual Aggression (Taylor and Francis):

www.tandf.co.uk/journals/tjsa.

Sexual Addiction and Compulsivity: the Journal of Treatment and Prevention (Taylor and Francis):

www.tandf.co.uk/journals/titles/10720162.asp.

Journal of Child Sexual Abuse (Taylor and Francis):

www.tandf.co.uk/journals/WCSA.

Child Abuse and Neglect (Elsevier):

www.journals.elsevier.com/child-abuse-and-neglect.

Sexual Abuse: a Journal of Research and Treatment (Sage):

<http://sax.sagepub.com>.