

Figure 5.16. A cross section of ^{14}C -DIC (in units of per mil, ‰) in the North Atlantic Ocean, showing the penetration of bomb-produced ^{14}C ($\Delta^{14}\text{C}$ values greater than -50‰) to great depth in the northernmost waters. Figure courtesy of Robert Key, Princeton University; Key et al. (2004).