

Figure 2.9. Schematic diagram of hydrothermal convection. The left half is a cross section of a spreading center with a shallow heat source indicating the water flow. The right half is a schematic description of the relative locations of water–rock reactions (W-R Rxn) and phase separation along the flow of hydrothermal circulation. Adapted from German and Von Damm (2003).

