

FIGURE 15.14. Wave-dominated coastlines. (A) A spit extending from a mainland beach, with tidal flats and a lagoon on the landward side. (B) A recurved spit with distinct curved beach ridges. (C) A barrier island with washovers on the landward side adjacent to tidal flats and a lagoon, North Carolina (from Google Earth™). (D) A beach with beach cusps, Pearl Beach, Sydney, New South Wales (from Rob Brander). (E) A tombolo at Port Sur State Historic Park, California (from Ann Dittmer). (F) North Carolina Cape Lookout and Fear (from Google Earth™).