Appendix 2

Camberwell Assessment of Need Forensic Clinical Version (CANFOR-C), 2nd Edition

How to Use CANFOR-C What Is CANFOR-C?

The CANFOR-C is a semi-structured interview schedule assessing need in 25 domains of the person's life, suitable for clinical use. Domains cover a range of psychological, social, clinical, and functional needs, reflecting the broad range of needs a person can have. Each domain is structured in the same way and is selfcontained, thereby allowing for breaks to be taken during the interview as necessary.

Suggested Questioning Process for Each Domain of the CANFOR-C

- 1. Historically, has there been a problem/have there been any difficulties in this particular area?
- 2. Has this been the case over the last month?
- 3. Do they need any help for these problems/ difficulties at the moment?
- 4. Are they receiving any help (informal or formal) at the moment?
- 5. Is any help that they are receiving actually helping and, if so, how much?
- 6. (For service user interviews) Would they say that they are satisfied with the help that they are receiving at the moment for this particular problem? Or (For staff interviews) did problems in this domain contribute to the index offence or reasons for referral to the service?

The first question introduces the interviewee to the general domain area. The second question then focuses the discussion on problems and difficulties experienced in the area during the time frame of interest (i.e. the past month only). The third and fourth questions seek to determine the extent of any current problems experienced and to enquire about any help that is currently being received for these difficulties. The fifth question determines the perceived effectiveness of the current help received and should then go on to enquire about any discrepancies between what is currently being received and what help is currently needed. The sixth question seeks to summarise the discussions about the domain and should inform the final overall need rating for the domain.

The overall need rating for each of the 25 need domains is scored as follows:

N = no need	Indicates that the person does not have any problems/difficulties in the area (and that they are not currently receiving any help in this area).
M = met need	Indicates that the person does currently have some problems/ difficulties in this area and that effective help is being received.
U = unmet need	Indicates that the person does currently have problems/difficulties in this area and either that (from the interviewee's perspective) they are not getting any help at all for these problems/difficulties, or that the help they are receiving is not helping.
NA = not applicable	This rating is only available for 5 of the 25 CANFOR-C domains. For the sexual offending and arson domains, a not applicable score can be recorded if the interviewee reports that the person has no history of problems in the area and that they do not present a current risk in the area. Accommodation can be scored as not applicable if the person is currently an inpatient or prisoner and is not likely to be considered for transfer or discharge in the nex 6–12 months. Transport can be scored as not applicable according to the same criteria. Dependents can be scored as not applicable according to the same criteria of the person has no children or dependents.

? = not known/ prefer not to say	Indicates that the interviewee does not know about the particular domain, is not confident in their response, or does not wish to disclose any information about any problems/ difficulties they might know about

Scoring options for Sections 2, 3, and 4 of each of the CANFOR-C domains are based on the anchor points provided. While it is good practice to ask about help being received and needed, it is not necessary to complete these sections if the overall need rating for the domain no need (N). The same applies if the domain is scored as not applicable (NA) or not known (?).

At the bottom of each CANFOR-C need domain page, there are boxes providing space for notes regarding possible interventions for problems/difficulties identified, as well as space for indicating appropriate review details. Consideration should be given, where appropriate, to whether problems/difficulties in the individual domains may have contributed to the index offence or reasons why the person was referred to the service they may currently be in (or attending). Additional consideration should be given to issues pertaining to risk, proximity to family, any restrictions in place regarding movements or access, relapse signs, and noting any discrepancies between viewpoints recorded.

Note: All versions of the CANFOR are freely available as downloads through a new dedicated section of the Research into Recovery website (http://researchin torecovery.com/can), hosted by the University of Nottingham, England.
