

FIGURE 13.71. Qualitative alluvial architecture models of Allen (1965). The braided-river model does not show an adjacent floodplain, and the depiction of braided-river deposits is unrealistic. The low-sinuosity-river model indicates erroneously that channels sweep gradually across their entire floodplains.