

Figure 3.4. The structure of Ice-I, the predominant form of ice at one atmosphere pressure. Shaded spheres indicate oxygen atoms and open spheres hydrogen atoms. The darker shading represents four closest neighbor water molecules.