

Figure 3.2. Freezing and boiling temperature of dihydride molecules of elements in column VI of the periodic table as a function of their molecular mass. The actual values for H₂O are connected by a solid line. Extrapolated melting and boiling points for water are indicated by the dashed line. Modified from Libes (1992).