

This directory contains copies of most of the images used in the book, Fundamentals of Computer Vision. In this way, the student may test his/her algorithm on the actual image used in the book, and in those cases where outputs are illustrated in the book, compare the results.