

FIGURE 10.4. (A) Typical crevasse types. (B) A variety of crevasse patterns in the Roosevelt and Coleman Glaciers, Mount Baker, North Cascades. From Post and LaChapelle (2000). (C) Folds in ice (outlined by dark sediment bands) related to glacier surging. From Post and LaChapelle (2000).

