

FIGURE 2.28. The “Cambrian explosion.” From Knoll and Carroll (1999). “Crown” groups are the major phyla (many of which have a good fossil record). Burgess (Canada), Chengjiang (China), Sirius Passet (Siberia), and Nama (Namibia) are important fossil localities.