

Chapter 8 links

The British Recorded Music Industry website considers online copyright infringement, commercial music piracy and file-sharing: www.bpi.co.uk/category/protecting-uk-music.aspx.

The Federation Against Copyright Theft (FACT) works to protect the UK's film and broadcasting industry against copyright infringement: www.fact-uk.org.uk.

The United States Copyright Office website includes information about law and licensing: www.copyright.gov.

Journal links

Articles on digital piracy have appeared in business, economics and psychology journals. Some of the journals who have published multiple papers on this topic are listed below.

Behaviour and Information Technology (Taylor and Francis): www.tandfonline.com/toc/tbit20/current.

Computers in Human Behaviour (Elsevier):
www.journals.elsevier.com/computers-in-human-behavior.

Cyberpsychology, Behaviour and Social Networking (Mary Ann Liebert Inc):
www.liebertpub.com/overview/cyberpsychology-behavior-and-social-networking/10.

Deviant behaviour (Taylor and Francis): www.tandfonline.com/toc/udbh20/current.

International Journal of Cyber Criminology (Open Access): www.cybercrimejournal.com.

Journal of Business Ethics (Springer):
www.springer.com/social+sciences/applied+ethics/journal/10551.

Peer-to-Peer Networking and Applications (SpringerLink):
www.springerlink.com/content/1936-6442.